Two Hurt As Jet Falls Near East N.C. School

No Children Injured Near Miss

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
HERTFORD — Two men were injured when a Navy Banshee jet plane crashed near the Perquimans County High School here today. No school children were hurt, early reports said, and the pilot of the aircraft has not been located.

The aircraft narrowly missed the school building and the explosion demolished the garage about 100 yards from the main building.

The injured were identified as Preston Morgan and J. Van Roach, both listed as mechanics for the school.

The men were rushed to the Chowan Hospital in Edenton.

The extent of their injuries is unknown, but both are believed to be burned. An unconfirmed report said the pilot was killed when he bailed out of the plane.

However, Cmdr. John Natwie, Coast Guard operations officer, said two helicopters, two lighter-than-air craft, and several other planes were dispatched from the main school building. A communications man in the school building was missing.

The jet aircraft reportedly crashed 400 yards from the school building and skidded through the garage. The garage was demolished and four or five school vehicles were destroyed. The jet came to rest on the baseball diamond 25 yards from the main school building. About 450 students were in the building at the time. The school is located on the edge of the town.

Communications into HERTFORD were immediately blocked but Elizabeth City police officials said a call had gone to Norfolk for blood. A hospital official said the request was not unusual, as the hospital has no blood bank for emergencies.

The injured were working in the school garage at the time of the crash. Immediately following the crash, State Highway Patrol officers blocked off all highways leading into HERTFORD and ambulances were called from nearby towns.

The town was immediately jolted by the crash and the school area attracted hundreds of people.

The time of the crash has been set at 10:58 and the school was filled with children at the time.

The crash, which the plane had hit the school building, proved false.

'The Body' Has Check On Old Head Injury

BURBANK, Calif. — Marie McDonald, hospitalized for a day or two for observation of a head injury she suffered last Nov. 27 when the car she was driving ran into a ditch. Her doctor says she is in good general health. Last month the actress said she was kidnapped, held 24 hours and released on the desert near India. A grand jury investigated but did not vote an indictment.

Evening Prayer

O Merciful Father, who doth know us better than we know ourselves, forgive us for those sins known, but to ourselves and Thee, that are forgiven by Thee, we may face life unafraid. Through Jesus Christ our Saviour, Amen.

Cunningham Will Head Foundation

By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

After a luncheon with the trustees of Davidson College at the Student Union yesterday, John Rood Cunningham walked out into the sun and was met by a young campus leader.

"May I talk with you about this matter?" the student asked. "What matter?" Cunningham asked.

But the college president knew in a second that the boy had when dormitory lights signal the only breath of life in the college campus — a handful of students gathered at the Union and picked up copies of an "Extra."

All afternoon and late into the evening, the staff of The Davidsonian labored to get out the one-sheet paper.

A headline blared "Cunningham Resigns" in the biggest type in the shop.

Early reports that was talk of little else on the campus. Students and faculty members who wanted to see Cunningham were disappointed, for at 9:20 a.m. he was on his way to Charlotte for a meeting.

Behind him was a surprised and saddened campus, ahead a

WANTED: Pied Piper For Crows. Apply...

By JACK SAMSON
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — I'm Grande Valley crows apparently have decided the city offers the best opportunities.

The rascals are cluttering alleys, peering into garbage cans, raising back yard gardens, diving bombing cats and dogs, stealing anything they can haul off and making life miserable for late-sleeping humans.

Anyone who hasn't been jolted bolt upright in bed lately by a raucous creak near the bedroom window, probably can expect it soon.

Since there are laws against blasting these noisy creatures out of the trees inside the city limits, there is nothing to do but turn over in bed and think evil thoughts.

Now that they are moving into the city, some people figure it is only a matter of time before they learn how to get nicksles out of parking meters.

After Ike's Talk Sanctions By U. N. Seen For Israel

WASHINGTON — United Nations action to impose some form of sanctions on Israel appeared almost certain today, after President Eisenhower declared the U.N. must "exert pressure" to get Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Israel's only hope of averting a sanctions vote apparently lies in agreeing to withdraw its forces without the guarantees it has been demanding against a subsequent attack by Egypt.

Arab countries, working through the U.N.'s Asian-African group, have urged sanctions. The matter now is expected to come up in the U.N. tomorrow.

POLICY OUTLINED

Eisenhower set forth the United States policy in a radio-television broadcast to the nation last night. He called this a "fateful moment" for the U.N. and its influence in world affairs, declaring that "the future of the United Nations and the Middle East may be at stake."

After recounting a long series of efforts to get Israel to agree to withdraw its forces, Eisenhower made this assertion:

"The United Nations must not fail. I believe that — in the interest of peace — the United Nations has no choice but to exert pressure upon Israel to comply with the withdrawal resolutions."

"Of course, we still hope that the government of Israel will see that its best immediate and long-term interests lie in compliance with the United Nations and in placing its trust in the resolutions of the United Nations and in the declaration of the United States with reference to the future."

REACTION VARIED

Congressional reaction to Eisenhower's speech varied. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas expressed "regret that the administration still feels that there is no choice but to bring pressure on one" and added:

"I agree that Israel should withdraw but I also feel that the withdrawal should be accompanied by adequate U.N. action that will not leave Israel defenseless."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader who like Johnson has strongly opposed sanctions, said he had not heard the speech. He declined comment.

Israeli Plea: 'Stand Firm'

JEERUSALEM — Abba Eban, Israeli ambassador to the United States, went before Premier David Ben-Gurion and the cabinet today to give a personal report of his negotiations on the Middle East crisis.

Eban arrived before dawn from Washington. Ben-Gurion summoned him home to give an account of his negotiations in Washington on Israel's refusal to withdraw from the Gaza and Aqaba areas.

Despite his early arrival, Eban was met at the airport by a group of 40 right wing demonstrators who urged him to stand fast against American and U.N. pressure for Israel to pull out of Egyptian territory.

The demonstrators carried a banner reading "No submission, no retreat." Another banner read: "Who submits today will submit tomorrow. Who stands fast today will stand fast tomorrow."

REP. JACK LOVE (left), of Mecklenburg, explains the minimum wage bill he introduced yesterday to Rep. Carl Venters of Onslow, chairman of the appropriations committee. The bill would require that a $1 minimum be paid to most state workers.

Legislature Gets New Fiscal Bills

RALEIGH — Legislation to reorganize the state's fiscal agencies into a new Department of Administration was introduced in the House and Senate today.

Meanwhile, the House saw introduction of proposed constitutional amendments to change the present method of reapportionment of General Assembly membership. The bills offered by Rep. Joe Hunt of Guilford and others would carry out recommendations of a commission which studied the question.

New Airport Is Proposed

A proposal for a new airport for "non-scheduled" aircraft was advanced at the Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee meeting today.

John Ervin, a member of the committee, made the proposal, citing the need for a second airport to serve not only non-scheduled planes but some privately operated aircraft.

The idea was seconded by Douglas Municipal Airport Manager Al S. Quinn. The committee then instructed its chairman, McAlister Carson Jr. to name a subcommittee to study advisability and possible sites for such a field.

Mr. Carson said he would name the group after conferring with Chamber of Commerce President Paul R. Younis.

During the discussion, it was suggested that the Naval Ammunition Depot, property near the city offered an excellent site. However, the Navy has said it will retain possession of the depot.

—NO PX CLERKS, MAIDS— Lowbrow Fraternization Verboten

GOEPFINGEN, Germany — Some of the officers of the U.S. Army's 8th Infantry Division have been dining German maids employed in Army households, and the division commander has passed the word to stop it.

An Army spokesman said an officer, for example, might take a friend to an Army cocktail party, attended by his employees.

EMBARRASSING?

"It might be embarrassing to both the maid and to her employer," an Army spokesman here said. "We believe it would be inappropriate for an officer to date a maid who is working in an American household."

A division headquarters spokesman denied a report on the new fraternization hub-bub carried by the Overseas Weekly, an independent English-language

Longshoremen Fail To Heed Work Orders

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK — New York's 25,000 longshoremen today refused to heed back-to-work orders of their union president.

Thomas "Teddy" Gleason, general organizer for the International Longshoremen's Assn., said the men were waiting until all jobs have signed contracts in ports from Maine to Virginia.

Accords have been reached everywhere except Baltimore and Hampton Roads, Va.

NEW YORK ACTION

The action of the New York dockers thus made it uncertain when work will be resumed by the 45,000 cargo handlers who struck eight days ago.

But in the Philadelphia area, longshoremen followed the New York pattern and stayed idle. Spokesmen for employers said they understood the men would remain away from work pending an over-all coastwise settlement.

At Boston, stevedores were officially supposed to resume their jobs at 8 a.m. but the actual work is expected to begin at 1 p.m., because of the necessity for giving their notice of work.

Gear men, chief clerks and hook men went out duty this morning. In New York, longshoremen gathered at piers before 8 a.m., giving rise at first to belief they intended to resume work.

BEGAN VOTING

Instead, they merely began voting on the contract reached between the I.L.A. and employers last Sunday.

One outspoken local official, Harold Bowers, business agent of the luxury liner piers along Manhattan's West Side, said his men would not return to piers until settlements are reached in Baltimore and Hampton Roads.

"We won't double-cross any one," Bowers said.

who got themselves into situations that might be detrimental," Washington told Col. Smith to call in any junior officers for a little talk.

"ADVICE" GIVEN
Smith cautioned the officers — "It is forbidden to go out with anybody who works for a living. This includes ribbon and stock sales clerks at the PX, snack bar employees — anybody who is below your social level."

STAFFMENT DENIED
The spokesman said Smith made no such statement and added: "Any allegations that the Army is against working girls is absolutely absurd. After all, we work for a living, too. Gen. Thomas W. Whitson, the division commander, had become preoccupied by recent stories in German papers — about officers

Mideast Debate Held Up For Israel Action

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — This afternoon's Assembly held up its showdown Middle East debate until tomorrow afternoon to await reports that President Eisenhower had sent a new urgent appeal to Premier David Ben-Gurion to order Israeli troops back behind the 1949 armistice lines by nightfall.

It was believed the request was carried by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, who arrived in Jerusalem early today to report to Ben-Gurion and the Israeli Cabinet. Eban refused to say whether he brought a note from Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles.

"NO CHOICE"

The President declared in a broadcast last night that the U.N. has no choice but to exert pressure upon Israel to pull back her forces. This was generally interpreted as meaning the United States is ready to support U.N. sanctions.

Elsewhere in the Western camp, opposition to any such action mounted. Denmark announced she would not vote for sanctions against Israel, and Australia was also opposed.

Although U.S. support is necessary to make any sanctions resolution effective, two-thirds of the 49-nation Assembly — or 34 nations — must vote for the resolution to secure its adoption.

Ben-Gurion Plans Reply

JEERUSALEM — Premier David Ben-Gurion will reply to President Eisenhower's declaration on Israel in an address tonight to the Knesset (Parliament). The announcement was made as the Israeli ambassador arrived by plane at 2:30 a.m. to give a first-hand report on his negotiations with U.S. officials.

Eban so far has refused to withdraw from the Gaza and Aqaba areas without firm guarantees against renewal of Egyptian attacks.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman confirmed that Ben-Gurion had received a personal message from President Eisenhower, calling again for Israel's withdrawal from the Gaza and Aqaba areas. He said Ben-Gurion replied that today's Cabinet meeting would decide Israel's policy.
