HOLLYWOOD — A little unkosher dog with a big kosher appetite — only days removed from execution in a dog pound — today is co-starring in a movie with Frank Sinatra, Kim Novak and Rita Hayworth.

It's Hollywood's greatest Cinderella story since Marilyn Monroe and the most unique talent search since Scarlet O'Hara. Smuffy, a Cairn terrier, ate him self into a $500-a-week contract to co-star with the famous trio in the upcoming movie version of "Pal Joey". The script calls for a dog to play Sinatra's pet and eat the same type of kosher food that he does. Sinatra, director George Sidney and producer Fred Kohlar were judges at a canine audition held last night at Nate 'n' Al's Elite Kosher Delicatessen in Beverly Hills.

Dog Leaves Pound For Glamor Of Movie Career

A Beverly Hills dog merely sniffed at the audition plate of lox, cream and cheese and bagels. LIED ROMANOFF'S
"I can't understand it," its owner moaned. "He just loved the food over at Romanoff's."
A huge St. Bernard, complete with brandy keg around its neck, was one entrant, Sinatra shook his head.
"We can have no dogs bigger than the star."
An early favorite in the judging was a bassett hound with the unusual name of Harry Bernstein.

Student Finds Out People In Dark
PHILADELPHIA — For Samuel P. Adam of New Canaan, Conn., doubted a statement in his political science class at Temple University that some persons of voting age in Philadelphia didn't know the names of important political leaders.

Adam was assigned to research the statement as a term project and found:
— Only 60 per cent could name the mayor as Richardson Dilworth; only 39 per cent could name the junior senator from Pennsylvania as Joseph Clark, although Clark had just completed a four-year term as mayor; 7 per cent didn't know the President's name.
One person guessed the President was "The Hoover."

"I think he overacts," the thin singer quipped.
Finally, came little Smuffy, with his little ears and big eyes. He devoured the bagels and lox like the Russians were in nearby Pomona.

The dog, already nine days in the pound, would have been put to sleep the next day.
Now he is a movie star with a cast that even Rin Tin Tin or Lassie never rated.
As flash bulbs popped from a small army of photographers Smuffy was crowned with a giant sized bagel — a sort of albino doughnut.
It was Hollywood at its publicity best.

Irish people now are being urged to educate their children for emigration by having them learn some technique, trade or — for girls — shorthand, Dublin reports.
When Radio Paris sent a questionnaire to hundreds of people one question was, "What do you listen to after 9 p.m.?" Exactly 50 per cent of the replies were: "To my wife."
