It is inexcusable that when the Seniate is considering questions which may involve fighting by the United States, it can't get the basic information necessary to form a judgment.

If our Government has the facts, the Senate is entitled to them. If our Government has not tried to get the facts, why not? If our Government has the do get the facts and the British have refused them, then the Ritish have refused them, then the Ritish have refused them, then the Ritlish have a brill of a nerve. The Army will sak for trespass rights in the whole territory of the sixteen counties. Nothing will be paid for these rights as such. But all actual damage will be compensated for. The settlement of these damages will be in the hands of a local representative of the Army. And meanthme, local committees are to be appointed in the territory, with an Army ciffeer assigned, so that landowners may learn beforehand just what the Government wants to do and how.

In mother country, trespass rights for such a manurer would not be saked for but simply taken as a matter of course. In this country, the Army undoubtedly has or can get legis authority for such action, but it prefers the method of appeal to patriotism and voluntary co-operation, but it prefers the mobiling but to gain, we have to be fed, and the perishables— wegetables, eggs, butlocal sources.

But if that were not true, we should still have no doubt as to the prompt and willing response of the Carolina farmers. This maneuver is an essential part of the great national defense effort which is being made in the gravest hour of the country's history. Every farmer who co-operates helps directly to strike a blow at Adolf Hiller, to insure that his slave-system shall not prevail over us. And these people have already given evidence that they are the most determined group against Hillerium in the country. Like their fathers before them, they are devoted to liberty and prepared to do whatever is necessary to defend it.

Stellin Seems To Be Getting Ready for a New Steal
Russian moves obviously mean that the Kremiln is drawing closer to Biller.
Indeed, the notion that Stalin was ever drawing away is highly dublous. The rebuke to Bulgaria and the friendably pact with Yugoslavia suggested that he might be, but the Moscow-Tokyo pact gave that interpretation the ile. And now the cyolcal repudiation of the Yugoslavian agreement and the announcement to Yugoslavia, Norway, Belgium that Russia no longer considers them as existent nations, completes the ruin of such a view.
It is possible that the Bulgarian and Yugoslav plays were simply hocus-pocus designed to bemuse Bettain and the United States as long as might be.
How far the new co-operation will so remains to be seen. Russia may be getting ready to join the Axi, on the theory that Britain is bound to lose.
The Dardamelies quite likely figure in the equation—with a so-called joint proteclorate by Germany and Russia very probable. What may also be into cards to a free hand for Russia to overrun Iran in return for putting the heat on Turkey and foreing her to allow Nati troops to pass through to Iraq.
And a Russian advance of the caract to get hands on that rich land. And the present opportunity is the first good one which has been offered. What the smart recruit doesn't know, on his first furlough home, he can cover up as a "defense secret."
