If Wheeler actually believes that, he is already over the border line into paranois, eise he has a quaint idea of what terms the United States would propose. It seems quite probable that a man who thinks that Northeliffe is currently the monthly of a new passers. man who thinks that Northeliffe is cur-rently a polither of newspapers in London may not have heard of Akis terms as outlined in the Tokyo Times Advertiser, organ of the Japanese For-eign Office. French Crisis

Mastery of Atlantic Is About To Fall to Hitler

"The people of the United States can hardly believe that the present government of France could be brought to lend itself to a plan of brought to tend tasely to a plan of poluntary alliance, implied or othertoles, which would apparently deliver praces and its colonial empire, including French African colonies and their Atlantic counts, with the menace which that involves to the peace and safety of the Western Hemisphere.

Hemisphers."

This, from the President's statement yesterday, is east in the lansuage of diplomacy, and does not mean what it agys. The President undoubtedly does believe that the things enumerated a precisely what the Vichy Government is now preparing to do, and is seeking merely to give that government one more polite warning.

Whether Vichy plans now to use the whether Vichy plans now to use the French mays and Weygand's armies to aid the Nazl cause is not yet clear. It is more than probable, however. An excuse can be found in the fact that excuse can be shown in the fact, the British must bomb Syrian air bases to head off the Nazis now landing there with Vichy's permission, just as an excuse was found in the British attack on the French navy to breach the terms of the armistice.

What may be assumed as certain is that Vichy has given promises of full collaboration in the passage of German troops across unoccupied France to Spain, and has agreed to the Germans using the French bases in Africa. This is the heart of the matter for us.

uang the French bases in Africa. This is the heart of the matther for us.

The passage of France and Spain into the Axis involves also the automatic entry of Fortugal, which of course is unable to reast. And what all this adds up to is that the Nazis are about to get, not only the French base at Dakar but also the Azores, the Canaries, and Cape Verdea. Together, these positions dominate the whole length of the Atlantic. Once they are in Hiller's hands, his attacks on Brilliah shipping can be enormously intensified, and it is far from certain that convoy can any longer be made effective.

be made effective.
Chances will be that the Battle of the Atlanic will be lost and that Britain will have to surrender and hand over to Hitler her navy, which means the command of the Atlanic, and her shiphilding facilities. In that case we will be confronted in, two oceans with naval power more than twice as great as ours, and an effective two-ocean navy will forever be out of the question, since the Axis building power will exceed ours by four or five times to one.

It is manifest, therefore, that we in-exceptly and immediately face a decise-accorably and immediately face a decise.

It is manifest, therefore, that we inexorably and immediately face a decison. If we allow Hitler to get control of the Atlantic outposts and atterwards thouse to light, we will have to fight under the wear; possible conditions and against fearful and graping odds.
On the other hand, if we loo on, dodging the decision from crisis to crisis, then, we may as well make up our minds to accept the status of a secondrate nation operating as a subordinate unit in the new Mast world economy, with every prospect that we shall shortly have a Fascist political system as tabilated in this country under the wing of Berlin.
