Dave Lasser, Relief Agitator, Pops Up in Unexpected Place

Back in 1937 a couple of "marches on

Lasser was pretty well looked into at the time for Communist affiliations. Best anybody established, he was more of an opportunist and an ordinary radical than the agent of any foreign power. vice-president of Workers Alliance was Herbert Benjamin, a Communist Party man and organizer of previous "hunger marches" on Washington.

Lasser dropped from our sight about that time, only recently came into the news again. Where do you suppose hear bean time? You'd never guess.

He has been employed by WPA, not as a client but as a supervisor. An "inspector," they call him. His salary is $4,400 a year.

When the House passed the laiest WPA appropriation of some 300,000,000 (unemployment, where art thou?), it tacked on a provision that Lasser was to be fired. The bill was taken up in the Senste yesterday, and Senstor Nur-ray of Montana protested that this was untair discrimination against an individual.

Undoubtedly it was, and undoubtedly

Undoubtedly it was, and undoubtedly personal prejudies such as this has no place in an act of Congress. But the Senate shouted Murray down, countersigned the pink ally for Lasser. And we don't know that we blame the boys. After all, when the Executive Department of the Government starts tak-ing in birds like Lasser, it is time for Congress to assert itself.

What Do Italian Agents Over Here Use for Bait?

Prom one F. H. Peter Cusick, whose name suggests immediately that he is the spokesman for some kind of propathe sporeaman for some kind of propa-ganda committee, comes another mim-cographed hand-out, this one announc-ing that the Fight For Freedom, Inc., has requested the President to close immediately all of the 49 Italian con-sulates still operating in the United States.

Our somewhat unenthusiastic reaction

Our somewhat unenthusiastic reaction to this request is yeah, sure, all right, close 'em up: it's o.k. by us.
We are fully aware that our lack of steam is neither conventional nor fash-fonable; the accepted editorial attitude of the hour dymands that we conced a thunderous second to Mr. Cusick's re-more.

As for the agents themselves, home-coming to Rome might be deucedly in-convenient unless they speak German fluently.

Another American phenomenon, in time of crisis, is the apringing up of a thousand "committees," all dedicated to the proposition so ably set forth by a character in a Fred Allen ahow, "Dopes is the Backbone of the Nation."

Communists also try to get control of publicity committees and of union publications, where material going out to the membership may be stanted. A third spot of obvious destrability is the organisation treasury.
