

Nikita Is Realistic Enough To Realize Pitfalls He Would Encounter

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Since Nikita Khrushchev is a realist and a good politician, he must have foreseen at least the possibility that the United States eventually would call a halt to his buildup of Cuba as a Caribbean Communist arsenal.

Just as President Kennedy foresaw a possible Soviet retaliatory move against Berlin and took steps to forestall it, so Khrushchev must also have considered his next step.

To believe otherwise would be to believe the Soviet leader totally incapable of logic and so to increase the danger of world nuclear disaster through simple miscalculation.

If initial Soviet reaction to the Cuban weapons blockade seemed uncertain, it could well have been less a matter of surprise than from the need to survey the Soviet's own timetable.

A number of reasons, all speculative, have been advanced for the Soviet course of action in Cuba. The island now is estimated to have at least $200 million worth of Soviet arms, including nuclear-carried missiles.

The simplest theory is that the weapons would make easier the export of Castro's revolution to other Latin American nations by violent means.

Another is that Khrushchev intended to use Cuba to increase his bargaining position on Berlin.

A third is that a Soviet base in Cuba might make the United States more agreeable to Soviet demands that foreign bases all over the world be eliminated.

In all three there may be some validity.

If Cuba can be obtained cheaply, then so much the better. But it seems highly unlikely that Khrushchev deliberately would seek a war over Cuba, far from Soviet supply lines and at a cost the Russian people inevitably would have to pay.

Khrushchev's world strategy requires a high degree of maneuverability, which already has been reduced by his own quarrel with Red China, China's attack on India and his own internal difficulties.

It seems highly unlikely that he would reduce this maneuverability further by entrusting the decision over use of nuclear weapons to the unpredictable Fidel Castro any more than he would to East Germany's Walter Ulbricht.

Red Cross Meetings Increased

The Board of Directors of the Brownsville Chapter, American Red Cross, will begin meeting once per month in November, according to David O. Davies, local chapter chairman. Former meeting schedule was every three months.

Davies said the board unanimously voted to increase the number of meetings. Purpose is to give the board members more opportunity to become familiar with the work of the local chapter, he said.

Other business included a review of the budget and reports from the standing committees on first aid, water safety, home nursing and disaster.

In the event of national disaster caused by enemy attack, the Red Cross will administer aid and mass care to families in the stricken areas under direction of Civil Defense, Davies said. In natural disasters such as storm or flood, the Red Cross has full responsibility for relief activity until the emergency is over and victims rehabilitated. This represents 55 per cent disaster costs, he added.

The Red Cross is one of nine agencies supported by the 1962 United Fund campaign in Brownsville.

Man Confesses Stabbing Death

SAN ANTONIO (UPI) — Police said Jesse C. Ortega Jr., 27, confessed Thursday night to the fatal stabbing of Charles Castellano, 32, an unemployed gravedigger.

Bexar County medical examiner, Dr. Robert Hausmann said Castellano was stabbed 19 times. The dead man was Ortega's wife's uncle.

Police said Ortega told them he stabbed Castellano when the older man came to him with a hatchet.

UNIQUE REQUEST
NEW YORK (UPI) — A hotel manager learns never to be startled by odd requests.

A woman guest asked Joseph J. Van, manager of the Edison Hotel, if it would be okay for her to clean her own room and make her own bed. She explained she'd never traveled before and would feel more at home if she, rather than a chambermaid, would do those chores.
