Kennedy Agrees To Negotiate On Cuba

Reconnaissance Plane Down After Cuban Flight

Eisenhower: Crisis Doesn't Call For Election Of Demos

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — Former President Eisenhower, in a stinging attack on the Kennedy administration, said Saturday the Cuban crisis is no excuse for one-party government or reducing the American people "to a level of a regimented herd."

Air Force Reservists Are Called

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara Saturday night ordered to active duty 14,214 Air Force reservists to man 24 troop carrier squadrons.

The announcement was made by Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester who read a statement saying the Cuban situation "requires we be prepared for any eventuality."

McNamara's statement said therefore that he was instructing the secretary of the Air Force to order to active duty the 24 troop carrier squadrons and 21 aerial port squadrons which support them.

Sylvester said the reservists would come from 20 states but he gave no details of the specific units to be ordered to active duty.

He said the states involved Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, New York, California, Oregon, Michigan, Oklahoma, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Washington, New Jersey, South Carolina, North Carolina and Texas.

Not Known Whether Cuban Anti-Aircraft Gunned It

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States reported one of its military reconnaissance planes missing Saturday night after the Cuban government announced its anti-aircraft batteries had fired on unidentified warplanes.

In a terse statement, the Defense Department said the U. S. plane was presumed lost. Assistant Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester added a stern warning that air surveillance of Cuba would continue and "appropriate measures" would be taken to protect U. S. aircraft.

Sylvester gave no other details and did not even say where the U. S. plane was missing. But he said they might be made available later.

The department announcement came after President Kennedy rejected a Cuba-Turkey missile trade proposed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The President

Hauffe Asks Fair Shake On Tally Boards

PIERRE (UPI) — Paul O. Hauffe, executive secretary of the South Dakota Democratic Party, said today Campbell County commissioners may be faced with a court suit if they do not give walking papers to at least eight Republicans serving as election judges.

Hauffe said he found that there were registered Democratic voters in 12 of the 16 precincts in Campbell County but there were Democratic election judges in only three or four of the precincts. By law, Hauffe said, there must be one Democratic judge in a precinct which has registered Democratic voters.

Hauffe said he only was asking for "a fair share." He said he called county commissioners and the county Republican chairman to effect the solid line of Republican judges in the eight odd precincts and replace them with at least one Democrat. Each precinct has three judges. He said he has received no definite promise of action and he will file a writ of mandamus by Tuesday if needed.

The write, he said, would force the county commissioners to install at least one Democratic election judge in each of the precincts that have three Republicans.

Hauffe said he discovered the "unbalance" while visiting the northeast area of the state. He said he first asked officials to comply with the state law but he said there was no action to his satisfaction.

Hauffe said he preferred not to file the suit against the commissioners but would "appeal to other Republican groups who would conduct the elections by other than unlawful means."

He said he did not know of other counties in which there were all Republicans and no Democrats where Democrats were registered.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK: By Samuel Lubell

Public Sentiment Supports Quarantine

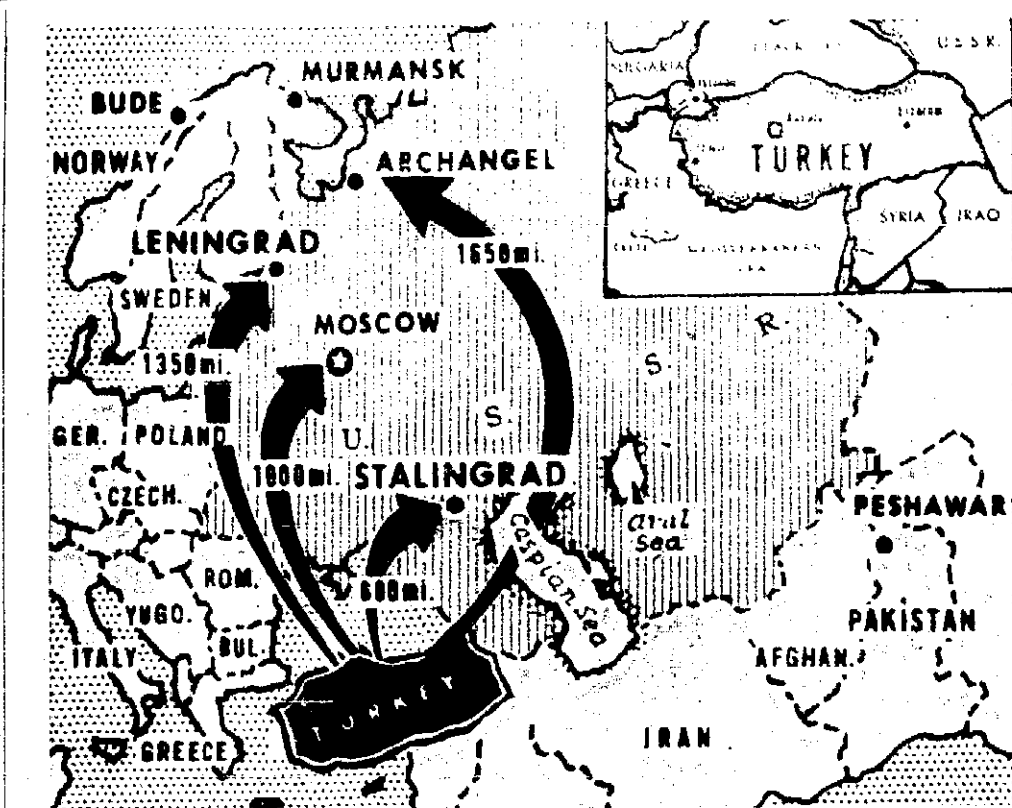

By SAMUEL LUBELL

How the American public has reacted to the blockading of Cuba will remain of historic importance no matter how the crisis finally turns out.

In the first tense days after President Kennedy's "quarantine" announcement three of every five voters I talked with thought, "There's bound to be some shooting" or, "A war like Korea is coming."

Others echoed the feeling of a New York City housewife who said, "I want so hard to believe there won't be a war I can't tell you what I think."

Despite these grim expectations only a handful of persons withheld approval of the President's action. The sentiments of the overwhelming majority of voters was sounded in comments like, "I'm scared out of my mind, but it had to be done" or, "It's time we had

Thant Has Quiet Talks With Stevenson, Zorin

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Acting U. N. Secretary Gen. Thant held further "quiet diplomacy" talks Saturday with the U. S. and Soviet ambassadors but there was no indication that direct Soviet-American talks on the Cuban crisis were in sight.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson called on Thant at 11:30 a.m. for a 30-minute conference. Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin called on Thant at 3 p.m. to deliver Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's Turkey-Cuba missile swap proposal.

Thant was expected to confer again later with Cuban Ambassador

Missiles Must Go Says JFK

U. N. Team Would Inspect Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy agreed Saturday night to negotiate with Russia for a solution to the Cuban crisis if he receives assurances from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that he will remove Soviet nuclear weapons systems from Cuba under U. N. supervision.

The President said a letter he received from Khrushchev Friday night appeared to offer such assurances.

Kennedy added another condition — that Russia halt further introduction of offensive weapons into Cuba.

The White House, in announcing this, said the United States in turn would agree to "remove promptly" its naval blockade and "give assurances against an invasion of Cuba."

The President sent a letter in reply to one from Khrushchev dated Friday night in which Khrushchev made no mention of swapping the removal of the Cuban bases in exchange for pulling down U. S. installations in Turkey.

Plane Reported Missing

The White House announcement came after the Defense Department reported one of its Cuba-reconnaissance planes missing. Shortly before, the Castro government had announced that its anti-aircraft batteries had driven off unidentified war planes "violating" Cuban air space.

A second Khrushchev letter, dated Saturday and broadcast earlier over Moscow Radio but just received at the White House Saturday evening, proposed a Turkey-Cuba trade now. The White House, in reacting to the broadcasts had made it clear in a statement that a direct swap at this point was not acceptable.

In his letter Saturday night the President did not comment directly on the Turkey-Cuba proposal, in the second letter but said that if arrangements were quickly made to defuse the Soviet missile threat in Cuba then the lowered world tension "would enable us to work toward a more general arrangement regarding other armaments."

Kennedy opened his letter to Khrushchev by saying the first requirement for any negotiations "is for work to cease on offensive missile bases in Cuba and for all weapons systems in Cuba capable of offensive use to be rendered inoperable, under effective United Nations arrangements."

Proposals Seem Acceptable

He told Khrushchev that "as I read your letter, the key elements of your proposal — which seem generally acceptable as I understand them — are as follows: 1. You would agree to remove these weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate United Nations operation and supervision; and undertake with suitable safeguards, to halt the further introduction of such weapons systems into Cuba."

"2. We, on our part, would agree — upon the establishment of adequate arrangements through the United Nations to ensure the carrying out and consummation of these commitments — to remove promptly the quarantine measures now in effect and to give assurances against an invasion of Cuba. I am confident that other nations of the Western Hemisphere would be prepared to do likewise."
