

Adlai Lowers Boom On Zorin in U.N.

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — "Do you... deny that the U.S.S.R. has placed and is placing medium and intermediate-range missiles and sites in Cuba? Yes or no?" I am prepared to wait for my answer until hell freezes over...

Chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson took his stand in a calm, determined voice, hurling a direct challenge at Soviet chief delegate Valerian A. Zorin.

It was one of the most dramatic confrontations in the history of the U.N. Security Council. It unfolded last night — with pictures — as the world's two giant powers sparred over tiny Cuba.

Delegates crowded around as Stevenson described U.S. intelligence photographs he cited as evidence of a Soviet rocket buildup in Cuba. An aide with a pointer directed attention to the sites as Stevenson spoke.

Zorin, presiding as this month's chairman of the Security Council, cast glances at the elaborate photographic display but spent most of his time writing notes in a pre-occupied way.

Stevenson rested his case. Zorin countered with aides and then replied in even tones.

"Mr. Stevenson has put the question to me of the sending of nuclear weapons to Cuba. He asked me to give him an answer... and has then demonstrated 'proof' which the United States might present as a motive or evidence in support of their aggressive actions."

Zorin scorned the photographs, speaking of forgeries, and then went on to repeat the Kremlin boast of Sept. 11 that our nuclear means are so powerful... and the Soviet Union has such powerful means of delivery... there is no need to seek any further sites for them outside the borders of the Soviet Union."

Stevenson quickly rose to challenge again: "I have not had a direct answer to my question... The question is have they missiles in Cuba—and that question remains unanswered. I knew it would be."

"The argument of the Soviet Union is that it was not the Soviet Union which created this threat to peace by secretly installing these weapons in Cuba but it was the United States which created this crisis by discovering and reporting these installations."

In a tone of sarcasm Stevenson went on: "This is the first time I confess that I have ever heard it said that the crime is not the burglary but the discovery of the burglar."

more explosive developments, military action may be needed to assure removal of the than a "quarantine." There have been numerous "leaks." 2. The large-scale buildup of land forces in Florida, which indicate that full-scale area for an invasion of Cuba. The units involved here have no relation to a naval blockade. Their most likely use would be in a landing operation. 3. Recent comments by government officials, the latest of which came from Secretary of the Treasury Dillon who said that if offensive preparations in Cuba are not halted "further action will be fully justified." The President himself, in his announcement of the blockade, indicated that this could be only the first step and others might follow. 4. Continued construction of Soviet missile sites in Cuba — a process that not only could wreck negotiations in the United Nations but lead to their swift destruction by armed forces of the United States.

may be part of a Khrushchev plot to force U.S. concessions on Berlin out of America's fear of a nuclear war. This possibility is under study in the State Department. But if these trends are discerned correctly the Soviets' strategic purpose is doomed to failure.
